Following publication of the original article [1], the authors reported an error to Fig. 3 caption. Part of the legend of Fig. 3 currently is placed in the text of the discussion section. The correct Fig. 3 caption should be:

“Fig. 3 Locations of the prevalence studies of multiple sclerosis conducted in Spain in the past 10 years and the study conducted in Asturias in the 1990s.

The following studies are represented: Ourense: García-Estévez et al. [20]; Santiago de Compostela: Costa-Arpín et al. [19]; Ferrol: Llana-González [21]; Gijón: Uría et al. [17]; San Vicente del Raspeig: Pérez-Carmona et al. [35]; Murcia: Carreón-Guarnizo et al. [36]; Lanzarote: Pérez-Pérez et al. [37].

The map highlights the epidemiological studies conducted in the autonomous communities of Galicia (a) and Asturias (b). Prevalence is expressed as the number of cases per 100,000 population”.

The original article [1] has been updated.
